Meet the experts:

All members of our team are fully DBS checked.

Jonathan Willox is a motivational trainer and programme development specialist within the education sector. For the past 15 years, Jonathan has worked with over 20,000 students aged 9 to 23, facilitating their careers and personal development, and championing a drive for change towards student mindset when studying. By devising, promoting and delivering bespoke programmes and talks, Jonathan has helped inspire young people, raise their aspirations and equip them with the skills required to succeed in the 21st century.

Jonathan's creative background in dramatic performance and creative writing has given him the tools to exploit and communicate his passion for helping others succeed. Jonathan's delivering style, course content and modest approach set him apart from others in the field.

Nikki Brooks is an experienced communication and leadership trainer, having delivered workshops in over 200 schools and colleges, helping students realise their potential through dynamic and creative exercises.

She is able to draw on her expertise as a facilitator and coach in the corporate world to bring to students the most current and relevant tools and techniques. Her clients include Coca-Cola, BBC, EY, BP, Pfizer, Rolls-Royce, Children in Need, O2, Aviva and Williams F1.

Nikki also has over 30 years' experience as a professional actress, having appeared in the West End and many TV Shows – most recently appearing as one of the judges in the 'Britain's Got Talent' panel for Morrisons.

Fayon Cottrell is a dynamic and creative presenter who uses humour and the reality of her experiences to empower young people to live the lives they were made for.

When not working with Inspiring Futures, she is a TV presenter for Ideal World shopping channels and a host and producer of 'The Kids Are Alright' for under 12s on Wandsworth Radio, she is also a reader for the charity InterAct, supporting patients recovering from strokes, to regain their voices. She also works alongside Inspiring Futures and Engineering UK as the host for their networking event Meet The Future You at The Big Bang Fair. With a varied career path ranging from hairdressing through to recruitment, Fayon delivers energetic, insightful and inspiring workshops that engage even the most reluctant of participants.

Eric O'Halleran is a highly experienced and diverse trainer, presenter and coach. He runs energetic workshops to help students maximise their potential and provide them with key career confidence building tools. Coming from a strong corporate background, he is well placed to provide relevant insights into the world of work.

Outside of Inspiring Futures, he continues to run training programmes and workshops for a wide range of companies and organisations including British Airways, BMW and many British universities – all with a focus on strong communications and developing a culture of success.

Eric has been engaging with young people for many years and has run hundreds of workshops and seminars in schools and colleges, both in the UK and across Europe.

Who we are

Inspiring Futures is a matrix accredited UK-wide careers guidance and skills training organisation. We have been successfully working in partnership with schools, delivering workshops and events for over 75 years. Our services are used by state, grammar and independent schools, sixth form colleges and other educational organisations.

Working in association with Group GTI (TARGETcareers and TARGETjobs), we are now able to provide students with up-to-date workplace information, giving them a leading edge in a highly competitive marketplace.
